“Careers After AGEC Degrees”

Feldman, Leach, Pate, and Schumann (FLPS) make a triumphant return to the Department. They have spent the last 20-something years demonstrating the stochastic dominance of a career with an AGEC degree relative to what might have been had they not been awarded their degree. Will Leach (MAB) founded TriggerPoint Design, a behavioral research and design consulting firm after he left PepsiCo. Lance Pate (MAB) is a manager of marketing analytics at Tesoro Corporation. Paul Feldman (MS) is a database marketing analyst at Reliant Energy. Keith Schuman (MS AGEC, PhD STAT) is director of research at AgriLogic. Join them for tales of coffee hours and brown bag lunches in the fishbowl, and what mentoring meant to them.
